FARMER RESIGNS AS S. S. SUPERINTENDENT

After Twenty Years Service. Prof. J. V. Brown Is His Successor

At the First Baptist Church yesterday morning, after Sunday School had closed, the Superintendent Mr B G Farmer tendered his resignation, after nearly twenty years service in that capacity He also resigned from the board of deacons

The resignation is not the result of any friction that has come up in the Church or Sunday School but some think that it is because of the stand that Mr Farmer expects to take in the coming constitution prohibition amendment campaign

Mr Farmer has always been a strong advocate of prohibition and has done much work for prohibition Still his friends say that he does not believe that prohibition should be put in the constitution and that he will do everything in his power to defeat the measure in Houston county His resignation is probably due to his thinking that he might be criticised for his activity in this campaign while holding the responsible positions he has held in the Church and Sunday School

Mr Farmer was elected superintendent of the Baptist Sunday School nearly twenty years ago, when services were held down on S St Andrews street and he has been regularly re elected each year since He has always taken an active interest in the work and it was with regret that his resignation was accepted

Prof J B Brown was elected as his successor, and a better choice for the Sunday School probably could not have been made

The Birmingham Ledger published a story Saturday to the effect that it had reliable information that Hon H D Clayton would make the race for governor on the local option platform Nothing further has been heard of the matter and his friends in this section of Alabama don't know what there is in the rumor Mr Clayton is a close thinker in politics and he probably sees that there are enough men lined up for the amendment to give him a show for election on the local option platform and then again there may be nothing to the report But should he enter the race for governor it would change the original plans of some of the politicians to a considerable degree

HAMBURGER MAKES ANSWER TO ATTACKS

Made by Leading Prohibitionist upon Certain Cities and Classes

By request, we publish the following, which appeared in the Montgomery Advertiser a few days ago

A notable feature of the debate on the Foller bill in the Senate was the address of Senator Hamburger when he answered the intolerant attacks on certain cities and classes in Alabama The large part of his address was devoted to a reply to the attack of a leading prohibitionist who among other things had alluded to "foul degenerate Jew ridden Montgomery"

By request of a number who heard it Mr Hamburger's remarks are published

Mr Hamburger declared that the bill should be entitled, an act to further increase hypocrisy and invasion of law and to make thousands of otherwise good citizens of Alabama liars and perjurers and law breakers" With the passage of this act,' he said "thousands of men will be drinking in secrecy in violation of the laws of the State they love This measure and similar fanatical laws, will eventually make Alabama the butt of ridicule throughout the nation, just as Maine and Kansas have been for many years, for prohibition has not only not decreased intemperance in communities where a majority oppose such measures, but has actually increased it and statistics proved this to be true How! Because it drives thousand of moderate drinkers of light wines and beer to the use of alcoholic drinks, like rum, gin and whiskey, which are easily hidden, requiring no refrigerator and are secretly sold in utter defiance of the law We are all agreed that drunkenness is a great evil, that the American saloon as it has existed in many places, with its attendant evils and law defying attitude is doomed as it should be, that the use of liquor has been the cause of untold misery but we are not agreed as to the proper solution of this most complicated problem You Senators who favor this and similar drastic measures, assert that it will decrease drunkenness, I declare that in the light of experience of other states, that it will not do so, but will make for perjury, disregard for law in general, and an abhorrent state of affairs

"Why look, you fellow Senators at Georgia, the State in whose footsteps we followed only a few months ago Over there the Legislature last week, practically nullified its prohibition laws, by licensing the sale of beer, it having already seen the futility of trying to make men moral by the law of force, instead of by the law of love It has well been said, that there are worse evils, than the drink evil, that is to say evils more subversive of the character of a people because more general and persuasive, less obvious and reachable The drunkard is usually in evidence He may be dealt with It is otherwise with the varying forms of personal and political corruptions Virtue is self-resistance to vice not enforced obedience to drastic regulation Morality is relative That may be moral in one country, wich is immoral in other cases Time and place must be regarded The city is not the village, the hamlet not as the town Sewers cannot be made to run pure water, nor boot-legers pure drink, though as experience has shown we are bound to have sewers and we can nowhere, that is nowhere in prohibition territory, neither in Main nor Alabama not to speak of Kansas and Georgia get rid of boot-leggers

Tribute to Russell

Mr Hamburger paid an eloquent and glowing tribute to Col E L Russell leader in Mobile against this wave of blind passion, intolerance and bigotry, he declaring that Colonel Russell was the noblest man he had ever known He had done more good for the people of Alabama and for the Southland than a thousand cowpenfulls of Yankee agitators, who had contributed not one cent to the wellfare of the State, but who had set back its progress and prosperity for many years "Right here, Mr President permit me to say to the Senator from Dallas that we have no objection to any man from any State or any country coming to Alabama to help us develop our resources We want them to come, but we do object to agitators who come and array friend against friend

25 PEOPLE DUCKED IN ST. ANDREWS BAY

Overloaded Boat Swamped by Waves of Passing Launch. All Saved

A launch on St Andrews Bay went down yesterday evening with 23 or 25 passengers on board All were pulled out by a passing boat, so far as is known but there are some who claim that 25 were on board, and but 23 were rescued All of the number were excursionists, and one woman was on board The bay was perfectly calm, but the boat was of only ten passenger capacity, and it was loaded down, and when the waves of a passing boat washed over, the passengers swayed to one side and the boat was swamped There were but 15 life preservers on the boat, it is said but there were only two passengers who had presence of mind to grab them The passing boat stopped and took them on board One man was almost unconscious when hauled on deck, but the water was soon sloshed out of him and he came around alright The water where the accident occurred was forty feet deep between the railroad docks and St Andrews

Out of the whole crowd of passengers, it is said that but few of them could swim, and but for the boats that went to the rescue almost immediately, the greater portion of them would have been drowned

The boatman, it is said, was violating the law by allowing more than ten passengers on his boat and by taking more passengers than he had life preservers, and by permitting some of them to ride on the top of his boat

THREE MEN BITTEN BY MAD DOG AT COLUMBIA

Mr A C Price of Columbia passed through the city last night with the head of a mad dog that had bitten three men in Columbia Saturday night, he being one of them, having been bitten three times

The dog was not thought to be mad until he had already bitten the three men, the last one being Mr Price, who shot him through the head He said that he did not hear the dog when he was slipping up behind him and the first thing he knew about it was when he felt the sharp teeth piercing him in the leg, one time in the right hip, and once in each of his legs below the knees Dick and T P McGriff were also bitten but not so bad as Mr. Price, they being bitten only once.

Mr Price left this morning for the Pasteur Institute in Montgomery stating that the other two gentlemen will follow today

MR FARMER'S RESIGNATION

We love history and especially history that pertains to Dothan We would like to have a picture of the Sunday School that elected B G Farmer as its superintendent in 1892, and then compare it with the Sunday School that accepted his resignation yesterday morning

In the first picture would show many children, some of whom no doubt, would show up in the second picture with children of their own, all pupils in the Sunday School this same superintendent has presided over for nearly two decades During all these years the superintendent has been absent but few times considering the business that this man has had to engage his time

He can put enthusiasm in a crowd of Sunday School folk that few could produce He has hragged on them when they did well and scolded them when they failed in their duty and he has taken them into his confidence and given them paternal advice on how to sing a song without 'chopping it' He has encouraged the timid child to 'speak out loud' when reporting attendance and class collections and begged and pleaded with them to clap their hands in keeping time when he announced 'Sing a song!' He has always loved to see animation in his Sunday School and he had the faculty of producing it

For continuous service he probably holds the record in the wire grass of Alabama as a Sunday School superintendent, and he has set a standard in maintaining a good attendance that his successors will be glad to emulate He has used a method all his own he has individual characteristics that stand for vim and vigor and work, and he has never known a day so dark that he couldn't find a streak of light in the clouds

A CANNON—NOT UNCLE JOE

Between bedtime Saturday night and getting up time Sunday morning, some party or parties, unknown to affiant, rolled out and mounted a cannon on the vacant lot in front of the postoffice

We say a cannon, and mean that it is a cannon, good enought for all purposes that cannons are generally used for This piece of artillery was not brought from the iron foundry of the government but is a Dothan product, like many other things we have

The wheels the cannon is mounted on were stolen from a livery stable across the street, and are the two front wheels of a broken down wagon with just the axle and hounds left The barrel of the cannon is two joints of No 7 stove pipe The piece of heavy field artillery was rolled out and unlimbered right in the middle of the lot, that has been doing time during the summer months as a miniature park The muzzle of the cannon is elevated at an angle of 45 degrees and seems to be ranged on the place where the dome or "lookout" of the new government building will come out when it is finished up

The wheels of the old wagon look very much like the wheels that many other cannons are mounted on, where you run up on them in places like Andersonville, immortalized in song and story, mostly story

Dothan is a young town as we have remarked before hardly old enough to vote, and yet she has piled up some astonishing majorities in her time Being young and anxious to make our mark in the world we have devoted much time to building homes and factories, and educating our children so they won't be forced to make their marks Naturally such places of amusement and diversion as parks have often been considered and spoken of as a necessity But whenever the question was urged for action somebody would always put a quietus on the enterprise by the remark

Yes but where are we to get the cannon and the bandstand and the flagpole? That hushed us for we know a town of this size could have no park unless we got the cannon, the flagpole, a bandstand and mounted the cannon on a cement stand and borrowed some iron balls and stacked them up pretty and nice to make the children ask questions about them

Having none of these things but little effort has been put forth to secure the grounds for a park even

Here in the spring ladies feeling that something should be done to beautify this plot of ground north of the new postoffice building took it in hand and planted it in grass and made a circle in the center and planted that circle in canna lilies and the place has looked rather attractive all the year Somebody seeing that this was the place to start the park movement has contributed the cannon Now subscriptions are open for the flagpole and the bandstand and we will ask the town to put in running water

It is true, the park hasn't been named yet but it will probably be christened Government Park or Infirmary Park or Park Row

Many people rush off to town the first thing after breakfast every Sunday morning because they have been doing it all the week They get the mail a cursory shine and then go back home and get acquainted with the children or go to church The early Sunday morning crowd observed this nopertant contribution to our town city and not one failed to recognize the piece as being one used in warfare As soon as the component parts are added a subscription will be taken up to have the outfit painted black

A BLUSHING MATTER

He had finished his dinner in a growch and then buried himself in the evening paper

"Hum, I wish they's invent a new expression occasionally, he commented as he read the account of a wedding 'It's always the 'blushing bride nowadays

'Well came the quick retort from the other side of the table when you consider what sort of husbands most girls have to marry why you can't much wonder at their blushing' —Philadelphia Record

"I'm going to marry Dick"

"Why, you told me you weren't in love with him"

"I'm not, but I've just heard that a girl I hate is '—Cleveland Leader

"So you think you'll go to the mountains next year?"

"Yes, too much breeze at the seashore Always blowing the cards off the bridge tables"—Louisville Courier Journal

On Sunday morning while I was at church and thinking my little boy was at home I learn that he with some companions went to the swimming pool down town I learn further that his companions, among whom was a man made up a purse of some seventy five cents to which was added by the little boy who runs the pool several free bath tickets and this munificent purse was offered my little boy to leap from the top of the Ellison Drug Store into the pool below a daring and foolhardy act which he performed with safety The distance that he jumped was some forty or fifty feet and I feel that he was only saved from a fate probably worse than death by an act of providence I am not and intending to change the waywardness of my boy to others but I do say and with emphasis as I hear some lend me their bleeding hearts will attest before the summer is gone that the pool this pool I do claim my intended place a competent and thoughtful man in charge at the pool who would not permit thoughtless and reckless boys from committing such foolhardy acts A little boy being in charge of the pool has no more thought of the safety of my boys than to contribute to the purse which my boy received for his high diving should not be left in charge of things of I do some any intention of knocking my one as the owners of this pool are personal friend of mine but a man should be put in charge of it or the City Council should do it

Again the pool is one by feet deep and with a little boy in charge with no thought of the safety of the little tots who are swimming I learn that the little body of some little boy or my little boy or some other fond parents little boy may be brought home some day before the summer is gone But lest but not least this pool is supplied by a cold spring and with no town person to make the little boys come out when they have been in long enough their health is certainly endangered I am informed that they stay in there for hours and come out perfectly blue and shivering with cold which my doctor will say is fatal to their health Hoping an change will be made in this connection before a tragedy or two which will bring sadness to all of our homes and homes I am Yours very truly

MOBILE SENATOR ANSWERS ATTACKS ON JEWS AND CITIES

and brother against brother, and I say to the Senator that it is enough to make the spirit of John T Morgan and Edmund Winston Pettus to cry aloud in solemn protest from the grave that a man from their country should stand here in defense of a bigot who has assaulted the Supreme Court of Alabama by declaring it to be dominated by gamblers bootleggers and pimps

The Senator from Marshal (Hon Sam Phillips) takes me to task for criticism is directed to those in the greatest respect for the clergy regardless of creed My criticism is directed to those fanatical preachers who drag their calling into the mud and mire of dirty partisan politics and who sow their intolerance and bigotry as do the editor preacher politician of this paper The Ozark Herald which contains the meanest most malicious most vindictive article I have ever seen directed to the good people of Montgomery in general and the Jews in particular There can be no criticism and there is none of church people, taking part in politics but there is a pronounced objection on the part of well thinking men everywhere of the church as an institution participating in partisan lobbying or petty politics

"The other day while we were debating the educational bill two Senators who favored that measure, the Senator from Bibb and the Senator from DeKalb referred in glowing terms to the intelligence the industry and the progressiveness of the German people I asked them to repeat their complimentary allusions and those present thought I did it as a joke because of my Teutonic name but my purpose Mr President was to remind them as I now do that Germany first and foremost among the nations of the earth is all and more than they proclaimed her to be and do they not know that among all the 55 000 000 people of that empire there are not a baker's dozen of men women and children who do not drink beer and light wines from the time they are an inch high and a minute old until they go to their graves?

Mr Humbing read various extracts from letters of Jefferson Davis all in favor of local option and against sumptuary legislation covering an entire State He said "If you of the majority are proud to follow the leadership of the Senate from Ohio and the bigot from Ozark I am proud to follow the teaching of the martyred President of the Confederacy and the incomparable Russell of Mobile If you say you will decrease drunkenness, I say you will increase law breaking generally If you say your people will sustain you I declare that Mobile will endorse my position by an overwhelming majority

"Mr President In this day of enlightenment, in this age of the printing press which sends forth to the remotest hamlet in all our fair land knowledge and information of the transactions of the habitable globe in this age of congresses for the encouragement of peace and good will among mankind, and in this age when almost every sect and creed is engaged in friendly rivalry in alleviating suffering of weak humanity, it is strange it is humiliating—to feel and know that the intemperate apostle the bigot is abroad in the land

"As I understand it sir the constitution of the United States the supreme law of the land gives to every man without question the right to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience If this is not so then let the "star" in our country's flag which represents the State of Alabama be by the language of the great Prentiss blotted out and leave the stripe fit emblem of her degradation

"Mr President I hold in my hand a newspaper published not at St Petersburg Russia but at the town of Ozark in this State and as it seems inflamed by passion or blinded by bigotry in its fanatical assaults on a certain class of our fellow citizens I propose to read extracts from its editorial and make such comments thereon as appear to me proper and right

'This paper is edited by one of the leaders in this crusade of blind passion and wild fanaticism and intolerant bigotry He it was who offered the resolution commending constitutional prohibition at a recent Alabama church association held at Andalusia He is also 'a reverend,' and like the other sweet scented patriot the man from Ohio has been stalking round the lobby of this Capitol like Alexander Selkirk, monarch of all he surveyed Here are extracts from the leading editorial of the latest issue of his paper bearing which I declared the other day would be the harvest from the seed of discord and dissension now being sown broadcast in Alabama

Mr Humburger then read the editorial which was a vicious attack on the people of Montgomery and denunciatory of the Jews as a people The article contained such expressions as degenerate Jew ridden Montgomery Gentiles who have cowardly fled from this town Jews as a body and as one man stand for liquor and the debauchery of our citizenship and as a body should be condemned for their acts and unalloyed infamy

It must be apparent to you Mr President and to your Senators but this tirade of invective and abuse is directed at these people be cause they are Jews and this in a free country where they have been taught to believe that a form of that world wide and century old paper or anybody else in America I had hoped that the days of Knownothingism when our fellow Catholic citizens were proscribed because of their religion that the days of such fanatical crusades of anti Masonry when a man was socially ostracised politically confiscated and commercially boycotted because he was a member of that world wide and century old fraternity - that the days of abuse and violence against a citizen because he exercised his God given right and refused to join the affiance I say I had hoped these days were gone to return no more forever but No! it is not to be so A man is to be tendered and evoked in a prohibition sheet edited by a so called Christian minister because he is a Jew

Mr President the Jew does not need me to defend him from these aspersions on his name his race and his religion His splendid history antedating our civilization by thousands of years is imperishable He is the race that gave us a David with his psalms Solomon with his proverbs and Joshua with his generalship He is the race that gave us a St Peter a St Paul, but far above all these he gave us the Saviour of mankind His is the race that gave us a Moses the great law giver whose laws have always been and still are the basis of all human laws In the trying days of the ill starred nation that fell it gave to the people of the South Judah P Benjamin a Jew who sat here in this historic capitol because of his wisdom and his patriotism because known as the brains of the Confederacy His is a race sir that gave us thousands of others whose names and characters are honored by all men who admire genius and merit Is it any wonder then that the Jew is proud of his people and his ancestors? Do we not recall the stinging rebuke of Disraeli to the man who twitted him with being a Jew "Yes he said 'I am a Jew and I am proud of it My ancestors were living in marble palaces and making laws for a great people while yours were half clad barbarians wandering around barefooted through the forests of Germany But what says that strict Presbyterian the matchless man of letters the great Macaulay in his speech in the House of Commons on April 7 1833 in reply to certain strictures of the member from Oxford on the Jew He said Nobody knows better than my honorable friend that there is nothing in their national character that unfits them for the highest duties of citizens He knows that in the infancy of civilization when our island was as savage as New Guinea when letters and arts were still unknown to Athens when scarcely a thatched hut stood on what was afterwards the site of Rome this condemned people had their fenced cities and cedar palaces their splendid temple their fleets of merchant ships their schools of sacred learning their great statesmen and soldiers the natural philosophers their historians and their poets What nation ever contended more manfully against overwhelming odds for its independence and its life? What nation even in its first age has given such signal proof of what may be accomplished by a brave despair! Let up open to them every career in which abilities and energy can be displayed Until we have done this let us not presume to say that there is no genius among the countrymen of Isaiah—no heroism among the descendants of the Maccabees

Ah Mr President would that I could call at this moment one of the beautiful spirits that expressed to Governor Vance of North Carolina in his glowing tribute to the Jew in his Future The Sacred Nation That old Southern patriot said never saw a Jew in the penitentiary that they were a law abiding not a law breaking people To which Mr Humburger said he did not know where he was when he began to drink but he had never seen a Jew who was another whom he had seen drunk or had have I ever seen a Jew in any activity art or industry which did not number Jews among its votaries
